

TROPICAL TOKENS

An NTF-based marketplace for meaningful content

NFTs for content that matters!

A manifest of digital-tropicality

Digital-tropicality means a virtual odyssey of warmth, rain, and free expression of human potential.

This is what Tropical Tokens is based on: a solid gateway from the tropical zone to the pinnacle of creation in the digital world.

Our mission: to make the world of content creation and access more horizontal and viable. By bringing people closer to their passions and dreams, as the energy of the tropics transpires, our desire is to encourage free expression of content creators, supporters, appreciators, fans, as well as of a diverse range of other players, such as NGOs, minority or isolated communities, social integration projects and so on, to bring to life and make hugely accessible an infinite number of meaningful contents and their power to inspire new perspectives.

Tropical Tokens is the backbone of content development between creators, digitality, and supporters of all kinds.

Art, sports, nature, humanities, and content created in an ever-growing myriad of universes... Name it! We have it.

We have a Brazilian soul and DNA, the country that created and best embodies the concept of "tropicality". We know in our bones what warmth and rain feels like, from a spotless blue sky to a torrential tropical storm in a matter of seconds.

We are sure that hardship and lack of structure may push people to create and express themselves with substance and meaning, creating ingenious solutions, and pushing boundaries in authentic and unique ways. However, the circulation of these creations isn't usually on a par to their levels of innovation, creativity and impact.

Digital-tropicality is multiplicity, synergy and abundance. It's feasibility.

We do not seek to make a profit from other people's creations or unique personal narratives, rather, we seek to invest in non-mainstream content creators and means of expression, providing not only the platform but, in some cases, the sponsorship for the provision of said unique content.

Digital-tropicality is the decentralized connection of the cyber-rainforest. Blockchain is the mycelial. NFTs are spurs of creation.

We believe that blockchain technology lights the way to a non-hierarchical means of content creation and circulation, giving both creators and appreciators the possibility to connect directly through the use of our platform.

Viral is toxicity. Digital-tropicality is homeostasis.

Tropical Tokens is content based on meaning, not viral, rather real-life applicability of technology. Digital with a pulse, if you will.
